ERANO "Ka Erdy" G. MANALO

(January 2, 1925 - August 31, 2009)

Lubos at taus-pusong nakikidalamhati po kami at ang buong lalawigan ng Cavite sa pagpapaalam ng pagpamahalang Pangkalahatan BIANO "Ka Erdy" G. MANALO ng Iglat ng Cristo (INC).

Nakalulungkot at malaking kawalan ang pagpapaalam ng pagpamahal nating si Ka Erdy ngunit naniniwala po kami na ang paglagas ng dihang ay pag-usbang ng bulaklak. Ang pagtuyot ng bulaklak ay pagsilang ng lungag bunga. Ang pag-usbang at nalaglag ang bunga, bulaklak ang mga bato sa lupa. Muli, silangang ang bagong buhay.
Ngayon ay nagpapakita ng kanyang pagkanyang hawin natin ang ating lathalahe, ang pagtatatag ng kanyang kabanalan sa ang Pangkalahatan.

Wanted: virtue

After the 2009 elections, the Philippines is in a state of transition. The new administration is taking office, and the old one is leaving. This is a time of opportunity for the new leaders to set a new course for the country.

EDITORIAL

The new administration has a chance to show that it is different from the old one. It can show that it is committed to the welfare of the people and to the development of the country.

It can show that it is committed to the rule of law and to the protection of the rights of the people. It can show that it is committed to the promotion of peace and stability in the country.

It can show that it is committed to the promotion of economic growth and to the improvement of the living standards of the people. It can show that it is committed to the promotion of social justice and to the elimination of poverty.

It can show that it is committed to the promotion of environmental protection and to the sustainable use of natural resources. It can show that it is committed to the promotion of cultural heritage and to the preservation of the country's identity.

It can show that it is committed to the promotion of international cooperation and to the strengthening of ties with other countries. It can show that it is committed to the promotion of global peace and to the resolution of international disputes.

It can show that it is committed to the promotion of human rights and to the protection of the dignity of the people. It can show that it is committed to the promotion of gender equality and to the empowerment of women.

It can show that it is committed to the promotion of transparency and to the accountability of the government. It can show that it is committed to the promotion of good governance and to the fight against corruption.

Long silence

For the first time in a long time, the Philippines has a chance to hear from the people. The new administration is taking office, and the old one is leaving. This is a time of opportunity for the new leaders to set a new course for the country.

FORUM Editorial

The new administration has a chance to show that it is different from the old one. It can show that it is committed to the welfare of the people and to the development of the country.

It can show that it is committed to the rule of law and to the protection of the rights of the people. It can show that it is committed to the promotion of peace and stability in the country.

It can show that it is committed to the promotion of economic growth and to the improvement of the living standards of the people. It can show that it is committed to the promotion of social justice and to the elimination of poverty.

It can show that it is committed to the promotion of environmental protection and to the sustainable use of natural resources. It can show that it is committed to the promotion of cultural heritage and to the preservation of the country's identity.

Viewpoint

The Philippines has a long history of being a colony. It was first colonized by Spain, then by the United States, and now by the Philippines. This has led to a long history of exploitation and oppression. The people have been treated as second-class citizens, and their rights have been violated. The government has been corrupt and inefficient, and the economy has been stagnant. The people have been poor and hungry, and they have been treated with disrespect. The time has come when the people must stand up for their rights and demand change. They must demand a government that is accountable to them, a government that promotes the welfare of the people, and a government that respects the rule of law. They must demand a government that is committed to the development of the country and to the improvement of the living standards of the people. They must demand a government that is committed to the promotion of peace and stability in the country. They must demand a government that is committed to the promotion of economic growth and to the improvement of the living standards of the people. Mar 'at peace' with decision, reaps praises

By Christine O. Rosales

MANILA, Sept. 1 (PPI)—A woman who has been a vocal critic of the Philippine government's decision to grant amnesty to the communist rebels has been praised for her decision.

She is the first woman to be granted amnesty by the government. She is also the first woman to be granted amnesty by the government.

Aquino seeks God's help

President

MANILA, Sept. 10 (AP) — President Corason Aquino said today that he was seeking God's help to lead the Philippines through a period of transition and reform.

Aquino, who took office last June, said he was "deeply aware of the challenges ahead" and was "committed to the task of building a new, more just and democratic society for the Filipino people."

He said he was "relying on the support and guidance of God" as he led the country through this difficult time.

Powerful quake jolts Indonesia; 15 killed

MANILA, Jan. 10—A powerful earthquake measuring 6.3 on the Richter scale jolted Indonesia on Tuesday, killing 15 people and injuring more than 100. The quake, which occurred at 11:05 a.m. local time, was centered about 100 kilometers (60 miles) south of Jakarta.

The quake was felt in several parts of the country, including Jakarta, where many people were sleeping. In the town of Cilegon, about 100 kilometers from Jakarta, a school building collapsed, killing 15 children and injuring about 100 others.

In other areas, people were killed by falling debris or by being struck by objects that had been hanging from the ceiling. In the town of Cilegon, a woman was killed when a piece of a ceiling fell on her.

The quake also caused damage to buildings and infrastructure. In the town of Cilegon, a bridge collapsed, and a power line was snapped. In the town of Cilegon, a school building collapsed, and a power line was snapped.

Poll: Japan voters were fed up with ruling party

TOKYO, Jan. 10—A recent poll showed that Japanese voters were fed up with the ruling Liberal Democratic Party (LDP) and its leader, Junichiro Koizumi. The poll, conducted by the Asahi Shimbun newspaper, found that 58 percent of voters wanted the LDP to lose in the upcoming general election.

The poll also found that 65 percent of voters wanted Koizumi to resign. This was the highest percentage of voters who wanted Koizumi to resign since he became prime minister in 2001.

The poll also found that 45 percent of voters wanted the Democratic Party of Japan (DPJ) to win the upcoming election. This was the highest percentage of voters who wanted the DPJ to win since it was founded in 2000.
